

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Patty Mosteller, Atlanta Interfaith Broadcasters, (404) 892-0454, pmosteller@aibtv.com

FUN, NEW CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMING ON AIB THIS MAY

(ATLANTA, GA – April 21, 2011) – This May, AIB has all new episodes of the innovative television series, Dr. Wonder's Workshop and the always fun and energetic, Nana's Land. New episodes of Dr. Wonder's Workshop, performed by an all deaf cast, begin airing on Monday, May 2 at 4:00 pm. Nana and her kid's team begin all new adventures on Wednesday afternoon, May 4 at 2:30.

AIB has made a concerted effort to provide fun, entertaining, parent-approved programming for children. If you haven't had a chance to catch their kid's programming - it can be summarized by puppets, panda poetry, zany adventures and learning to help others. To find out more enter the kid's zone at <http://aibtv.com/kds.htm>.

AIB can be viewed on Comcast channel 5, AT&T Uverse channel 6 and Charter Communications (Smyrna, Roswell) – channel 22. Programming can also be viewed on Video on Demand at aibtv.com and the streaming network AIBNet.tv.

###

About AIB: Atlanta Interfaith Broadcasters Inc. is the nation's largest regional interfaith television network. For 42 years AIB has provided faith-based communities and nonprofit service organizations access to a larger audience. AIB's historically rich programming is housed at the Smithsonian and The Chicago Museum of Broadcasting. Due to its unique programming model promoting dialogue between people of all faiths, cultures and socio-economic backgrounds, AIB has become a destination for international dignitaries and media representatives visiting metro Atlanta. AIB is a self-supporting organization and can be viewed in more than 1.5 million homes across 19 metro area counties.